Date of task allocation-	09/10/23

Brief report on achievement by student-

Starting with a pre-trained OCR model, here's the process in simpler terms: Prepare your data, choose a framework like Tesseract or TensorFlow, make sure you have good hardware, and handle things like different languages, scaling, and evaluation. You'll also create a user interface, make tweaks for different documents, integrate it with other stuff, keep improving the model, and ensure the text it extracts is accurate.
